General Luders supported the movement by a demonstration from Galatz The text of the convention of alliance between Turkey, France and England was received at the Foreign Office in Paris on the 27th ult. It is believed that a communica-tion to that effect will, without much delay, be published

It is stated that Prince Demidoff, who for several years past has resided in Florence, has written to the Empe ror Nicholas, placing at his Majesty's disposal "his for-tune and his sword." The Prince is the husband of the Princess Mathilde, daughter of the ex-King Jerome, and consequently first cousin to the Emperor of the French In the London Stock Exchange prices of all public securities were declining, and money was very tight. Consols were last quoted at 86% to 86%—a fall of two and three-eighths in four days.

The excitement in the markets for Russian produce was unabated, and hemp and tallow had again risen, tallow being quoted at 71s. 6d. Linseed and palm oils were also rising considerably in value.

The London corn market was becoming a little steadier.

At Mark lane, on the 27th, the show of English wheat was insignificant, and factors were unwilling to accept the reduced rates of the previous Friday; and millers refusing to pay higher prices, only a few sales were closed at two to three shillings per quarter below those current on the 20th. Owing to war being about to be declared there were numerous inquiries for foreign wheat, and a large business was done at two to three shillings a quarter lower than on the 20th. American flour was more inquired for and was placed without difficulty at the decline noted on the 24th. Barby one to two shillings lower. At Liverpool large seculative purchases of American flour had taken place, and there was a consumptive and speculative demand at three shillings per barrel advance.

The Liverpool cotton market on the 27th was decidedir flat, and one-eighth of a penny lower for American de-scriptions, with sales of 4,000 bales. The market on the following day was very flat. At Manchester transactions had been almost suspen

The accounts from the manufacturing towns for the past week showed the general effect of the pressure itz the money market combined with the apprehensions of war. At Manchester transactions had been almost suspended. At Birmingham, however, business was brisk, At Nottingham there was a general stagnation, both as regards the home and foreign demand. Great duliness prevailed in the woollen districts. In the Irish lines market there was a slight improvement, owing to an increase of foreign orders.

The Overland Indian mail reached London on the 20th ultime, with dates from Burmah to February 2, Calcut-ta February 19, Madras 24, Bombay 28, Shanghae 4, Hong Kong 11, Singapore 18.

Bussem, in Burmah, was in a disturbed state. Trade at Calcutta was fair; Indigo had fallen; exchange 2s. 1d., Shanghae was still in possession of the patriots, and the rebel army was wintering at Fech Lin, one hundred miles from Pekin. Exchange at Shanghae 5%, and at Canton 4s. 11d., falling.

The Overland Mail brought late and important com

cial news from Australia, the dates from Sydney being to January 25, Melbourne January 30, Adelaide Eebruary 4. The returns from the gold fields in New South Wales were increasing, and rich mines had been found at Tamborowa. Trade in Australia was improving, with a brist demand for goods at Sydney. Gold was quoted at £3 17s. per ounce at Sydney, and £3 16s. at Melbourne. A telegraphic despatch from Turin states that on the
